

Junior PR Consultant

Public Affairs and Corporate Communications

Dialogue Communications is looking for a young talented and highly motivated communications person with a passion for developing and executing impactful campaigns to drive a successful engagement. The Junior PR Consultant will report directly to our PR Account Manager as well as working with Senior PR Consultant. Dialogue Communications is an equal opportunity employer and enthusiastically encouraging people from a wide variety of backgrounds and experiences to apply.

You will:

1. Performs a daily public relations work such as press release/ article development, media monitoring analysis, research, media relations, interviews, and many more with assistance from more junior colleagues and interns for our recognized client.
2. Closely work with Senior Consultant and Account Manager to manage several retainer and ad-hoc projects and engage with clients with the utmost support and supervision as needed.
3. Manages client expectations, earning their respect, trust, and confidence through proactive account management to successfully maintain and grow client relationship.
4. Supports Account Manager and Senior Consultant in preparing the communications plan and reports across different the type of projects and clients.

You need:

1. 1 year experience in PR/ Strategic Communications, Marketing Communications, Media Relations, or Research, ideally with both agency and in house experience.
2. Or 2 times experience as PR Intern at different companies.
3. Or fresh graduate from Communications, IR, or any related major with most outstanding critical thinking and excellent project management of multiple tasks.
4. Have huge interest in deepening their knowledge of various industry.